ABBOT ACADEMY
ANDOVER • MASSACHUSETTS

DEDICATION . . .

Because of her loving and never-failing interest in us, and because of her real sincerity, we, the Class of 1948, affectionately dedicate our yearbook to Miss Dorothy Baker.

ANDOVER - TRACK 12

MADAME ABBOT RETURNS

When I arrived back at Abbot in 1943 after many decades, I was as bewildered as the rest of the Preps because Abbot had changed so! Calling hour! Dancing! Lipstick! Those gym suits! But the spirit is the same and the traditions have grown to something deep and rich.

MARGUERITE CAPEN HEARSEY

When Miss Hearsey returned last June, we all looked forward to September and this school year. To Seniors, it meant Sunday-night suppers at Sunset and inspiring poetry classes. To the underclassmen, the renewal of an acquaintance with inexhaustible energy and a bright personality. The new girls found a friend with special interest in each of them. To us all, her return meant another year with a leader who has made us cherish Abbot.

ALICE CURTISS SWEENEY

She seemed formidable to us as new girls, but we soon discovered her genuine interest in each of us and her willingness to help us. Understanding us so well, she helped us to become aware of our limitations and our potentialities. We will ever be grateful for her thoughtful advice about our school life as Director of Studies. Her interpretations of plays and essays and her penetrating comments as our teacher, and her kind and subtle humor will always be with us.

In my fourth year at Abbot I found myself to be a senior. I felt important with all the privileges that seemed so new to me, but I soon discovered seniors merited them through hard work and by accepting new responsibilities. Nevertheless, I think that nothing can top the life of a senior at Abbot.

In Which We Say Good-bye

This year of 1948 was marked by many world shaking events...we returned to Abbot as full fledged Seniors: ours was the task to set a good example for the rest of the school; it was our bright chitchat which was to liven up dreary breakfast tables;

these were our new responsibilities, but there were also new privileges...we became the custodians of the Senior Parlor and the sole owners of the Parlor's Boston Herald; we carried the scarlet banner to the white sands of Ipswich Beach; Boston was invaded by hordes of high-heeled Seniors taking advantage of their new-found freedom.

Our talent was displayed in "I Have Five Daughters" ... December sixteenth we received Abbot's Christmas present, the emblem of Seniorhood, our rings...the next day we departed for Christmas Vacation. Intervale was a welcome relief for our exam-weary brains, and even to the non-skiing members of our class, Intervale was indeed a "little bit of heaven," College Boards found us fondly dreaming of non-C. B. requiring universities. The middle of April brought the substitution of Emily Post for dreary textbooks, our last Abbot Prom was nearly upon us...everything at the prom was as it should have been as we danced under the scarlet banner. Then came graduation weekend with its Senior Banquet, Garden Party, Baccalaureate, mothers, fathers, uncles and aunts. As we made our last official trip to the South Church, our emotions were mixed, we felt pride in the accomplishments of the past years and a sense of greater responsibility for the future but overshadowing all was a deep sadness, for we were saying good-bye.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Back Row: Zuckerman, Treasurer; Robinson, Secretary

Front Row: Kenah, President

Absent: Lackey, Vice-President

CLASS SONG

The Class of Forty-Eight is marching by,
Our Scarlet Banner proudly waves on high;
It stands for purpose clear and courage true,
For spirit, loyalty and friendship ever new.
And when the Class of Forty-Eight has gone,
The things she stood for will still linger on;
So all the best in us we'll dedicate
To the Class of Forty-Eight!

Intervale

Monday night arrived and amid a mad frenzy of packing we Seniors forgot about exams and our fears concerning them and turned our minds towards Intervale and all the wonderful times we'd have there: listening to Pooh, tobogganing, skiing, and being generally un-Abbotish. We scaled Mount Cranmore (in the Skimobile) and, despite an icy slope, weren't too uncomfortable from bruises and twisted knees. We wonder, though, if the handsome members of the Ski Patrol got tired of picking us up from the sides of the mountain and whether the schuss-boomers broke any bones over our numerous bathtubs. We returned to our haven at Russell's each night and although our appetites were ferocious, there was always more food than we could eat and afterwards a bridge game and a warm fire.

The time to leave came much too soon, but as all good things must come to an end, we paid our farewells and caught our train amid thoughts tinged with laughter and longing.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Student Government is the group of girls, headed this year by "Lish" Cooper, who take part in the administration of the school. They represent the student body where the Rating System, election of student officers, and maintenance of Abbot standards are concerned. The underlying aim of the Student Government in addition to maintaining discipline and school spirit, is to develop in the students a sense of responsibility for those about them. This year our particular aim has been to strengthen the Rating System, and to let a larger number of students participate in the school government.

This year A.C.A. with the help of W.S.S.F. has continued to work, both in Andover and in places far away, to aid some of the relief organizations, and at Abbot to try to keep the whole school aware of the hunger and nakedness which it might help to alleviate. We have been kept busy from the beginning of the year, right up to the party given at Christmas for the underprivileged children of Andover. CARE packages have been going out right along, and the Christmas dolls for Hindman left on time. We hope, by these small but varied services, to do something to ameliorate the suffering so rampant in the world.

Courant

Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Eight marks the seventy-fifth year in which ambitious Abbotites have published Courant, our literary magazine. Though snicker we might at the 1873 founder's dreams of "a paper magnificent in dimensions, boundless in information, brilliant in wit, and covering their names with glory," we proudly praise this traditional publication which has served so well throughout the years.

At first it did not seem possible that we could ever get the dummy set up, but soon the CIRCLE began to take shape...meetings were held with Mr. Cole and Mrs. Reeves. Typical phrases heard were: "Are all the sayings done?" "Let's be different, let's not have write-ups!" "Deadline, Monday, Murder Line Tuesday." And so, after many battles, the goal was finally attained, and here is the result!

This year, Abbot has again undertaken service to the world, under the new name of World Unity Service Groups — with the realization that the struggle for peace has just begun, and that we must play our small but necessary part in a changing world — working to maintain peace.

The Art and Orchestra Groups were organized to make money, the proceeds of which have gone to charity organizations. The Art Group's work was used for the annual Abbot Bazaar.

The Knitting and Sewing Groups made much-needed clothing for people in devastated countries abroad, which these people would not have had otherwise.

The Forum and Student Federalists met to discuss the important problems and current events of the world.

The Abbot Dramatic Society this year has felt the loss of our director, Mrs. Gray, who for thirty years had given herself unstintingly to the dramatic and cultural life of Abbot. Miss Hearsey expressed our feelings with regard to our sudden loss when she spoke of Mrs.

Gray in Chapel after the news of her death came to us. She told of her long service to Abbot, of her coming to the faculty in 1917, and of her constant devotion and enthusiasm for her work here.

Mrs. Gray started A.D.S. soon after she came, and had directed its yearly plays ever since. She undertook each new play with complete absorption and a tireless determination to make it the best she had yet put on. Her chief contribution, however, came not in these dramatic productions as a whole but in the help and inspiration she gave individual girls.

This year's play, "Outward

Bound", was one which Mrs. Gray long wanted to see presented by her society. It had been cast at the time of her death and was later given as a reading. A.D.S. owes much to its president, Salley Macartney, who took charge of it. The reading was something Mrs. Gray would have been proud to hear.

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and forty-eight, having sought mind and found body, do hereby sit down and distribute all our mirthly possessions.

To Rabbit Academy's long ears, who nose well all our foe' paws we leave behind these rare bits:

To Miss Hearsey we leave the margins of our source themes to set down for posterity her priceless anecdotes.

To Mademoiselle Arosa's niece we leave Momo's nephews.

To the ever earnest Miss Tucker we leave Lish Cooper's book, "How to Escape from a Burning Building."

To Miss Coffin we leave our weary bones.

To Miss McKee we leave our shower sandals for Mount Etna's steaming slopes.

To Miss Sweeney we leave a permit to visit Spamlet in the can.

To our Hares:

Mary Muessel's men to Pam.

We leave "The Page" to Shirley Squire.

Grace DeLong's conscientiousness to Ann Hassett.

Frankie leaves her shoes to Penny Pendleton.

Carrie England's closet to anyone who wants it.

Nemo leaves her baseball dates to Miss Roth.

We leave the Old Wing to P.A.

Jackie leaves her candid convictions to the meek and modest.

Julie leaves her beautiful voice to Lynn Olney.

Dougie leaves her diamond (?) engagement ring to Barbara Hamby.

Bunny leaves her Z to Gloria Yoffa.

Debbie Voss leaves her new look to the conservative.

Janie leaves her morals to Joan Webster.

Lou Hellier leaves her athletic prowess to Jo West.

Tina leaves her food to Sally Gibbs.

Muffy leaves her wisps of whimsey to the solemn and sober.

We leave our Abbot sacks to the flour mills.

Mary Marton leaves her Yearbook problems to any brave soul who will attempt to solve them.

To all future Seniors we leave behind our lights, leaves, and longer assignments.

And to Abbot we leave!

The firms represented in the following pages have contributed generously to the success of this book, and well deserve your patronage.

Parents and other friends who have given us their interest and support by taking space in our advertising section have made it possible for us to have the kind of book we had dreamed of as the record of our years at Abbot Academy. To both groups who have helped us we extend our warmest appreciation and thanks.

150th Anniversary

As early as 1798 Messrs. Ames and Parker had set up a printing press in Andover. Enlarged during the early years of the nineteenth century through the enterprise of Dr. Eliphalet Pearson, the first principal of Phillips Academy, Andover, which had been established 20 years earlier, the press became widely known throughout the United States and many foreign countries through the publications printed for Harvard University and the Andover Theological Seminary.

The present Andover Press, building on noble traditions, is today perhaps the best-known school and college print shop in New England. Proud of a glorious past, but not satisfied to rest on its laurels, the press has kept pace with the times by enlarging its plant and adding modern equipment in all departments.

*In its one hundred and fiftieth year, the Andover Press, Ltd., is proud to number among its publications
the 1948 ABBOT CIRCLE.*
